

Protection of Payment of Fees in Advance

In the unlikely event that Intech Institute of Technology Pty LTD (Intech) is unable to deliver the course in full, Student will be offered a refund of all the course money paid to date.

Student will have the right to choose whether to accept the full refund course fee or to accept a place in another course. If student choose placement in another course the student will have to sign a document to indicate that he/she accept the placement.

If Intech is unable to provide a refund or attempt to place a student in an alternative course our Tuition Assurance Scheme (TAS) – ACPET will place the student in a suitable alternative course at no extra cost to the student.

If ACPET cannot place the student in a suitable course, the ESOS Assurance Fund Manager will accept to place the student in a suitable alternative course or if this is not possible the student will be eligible for refund as calculated by the Fund Manager.

Procedure(s)

- InTech is a member of ACPET Tuition Assurance Scheme (TAS). The TAS scheme protects fees paid by overseas students to the college. In the event of a financial loss or closure of the business, ACPET TAS will place any affected students who have paid fees on advance to the College, into similar colleges at no extra cost to the students.

- As an extra protection of fees paid by overseas students, InTech belongs to the ESOS Assurance Fund. InTech abides by its refund policy in the event that it is unable to deliver agreed services to students – Provider Default.

Payment in Arrears after part of the course:

If InTech is unable to deliver course in full, the College will transfer student enrolment to an alternative course at no extra cost to the student.

Payment in Arrears after full the course:

If InTech is unable to deliver course in full, and because you have not paid any course money to the College you will be able to enrol in another course at your own expense.

General Questions Re ESOS Funds

What is the ESOS Assurance Fund?	The ESOS Assurance Fund (the Fund) has been established to protect the interests of current and intending overseas students of registered providers. It does this by ensuring that students are provided with suitable alternative courses, or have their course monies refunded, if the provider cannot provide the course(s) for which the student has paid.
What are my obligations in regards to becoming registered on CRICOS?	Where a provider intends to offer courses to students studying in Australia on student visas, the provider must be registered on CRICOS. In order to become registered there are a number of legislative requirements that must be met. One such requirement is to become a member of the Fund by paying your first annual contribution. In addition, you will be required to have Tuition Assurance Scheme (TAS) membership or an approved Bank Guarantee, Indemnity Agreement or Ministerial Exemption. For additional information on the TAS's and other alternatives please liaise with your DEEWR contact or visit http://aei.gov.au/AEI/ESOS/Tuition Assurance Scheme. htm Please ensure that you have obtained your Tuition Assurance Scheme membership or alternative prior to contacting the ESOS Assurance Fund.
What is the difference between a Tuition Assurance Scheme (TAS) and the ESOS Assurance Fund?	In the instance that a provider, who is a member of a TAS, is unable to provide the course(s) their students are enrolled in, the TAS will attempt to place these students into an alternative course of another of their member providers. If this is not possible, there may be a call on the ESOS Assurance Fund. In this event, if the ESOS Assurance Fund is also unable to place the student into a suitable alternative course, the student may be offered a refund of all prepaid course fees.
